The witnesses told a series of stories, but sill agreed that "Ebgish Jack" was the aggressor in the battle. Most of them said that when Burns struck "Jack" the latter's head struck the foot-rail which runs along the front of the bar near the floor, and that he never moved afterwards. Further, they said Burns continued to assault "Jack" after he was prostrate and unconscious on the floor.

Burns was taken before Police Justice Me-Mahon, sttting in Special Sessions, and he was remanded until this afternoon when he will be turned over to the custody of the Coroner. The witnesses were all held at the

She Faints While the Story of Her Woes Is Being Told.

F. M. Dunwoody, of 334 West Sixteenth street did not appear at Jefferson Market Court this morning to answer the charge of Slevin, of 228 West Twentieth street, who accuses Dunwoody of detaining his daughter, Mrs. Emma Colby, in his hous against her will.

HOUSE

Mrs. Colby is a pretty woman of twenty four years, but is unfortunately blind. She has been on the stage since she was five years of age, and for many years was the Eva in several "Cincle Som's Cabin" companies. She was under A. M. Palmer's management for some time, and supported her father's family until she married Colby. Slevin told Justice Grady that one day last Winter while he was out of town, she left the house and met Dunwoody, with whom she became jufatuated. Mr. Slevin said that Dunwoody was a married man. While the story of her woes was being told to the Judge in his private room Mrs. Colby fainted. She refused, however, to go back with her father and said she was perfectly satisfied to live with Dunwoody. The father left court alone and Mrs. Colby went away with Dunwoody's lawyer after

Commissioner Brennan told an France World or reporter this morning that he was averse to discussing the new law until he had received an official copy, as passed, from Mayor Grant.

"I am not familiar with the methods provided for in the new law," he said, "and can give no opinion as to the effects or results. I will say this, though, that it will be impossble, naturally, for the De; artment to put the new system in operation immediately, and I think it will take much longer than the thirty
